

e-Bulletin #5 - Resilient Saanich Initiative Update

The Resilient Saanich initiative is progressing in the Milestone One stage and there will soon be draft goals and objectives from the Resilient Saanich Technical Committee (RSTC) for public feedback. All public participation opportunities will be communicated widely in Saanich and through these e-Bulletins.

We have two new Resilient Saanich factsheets, posted on our website:

Factsheet #6: Biodiversity & Protected Areas in Saanich - looks at how Saanich biodiversity and protected areas potentially measures up to the most commonly used governmental target.

Factsheet #7: Environmental Stewardship Examples - highlights types of local stewardship programs and partnerships, with current examples from Saanich and other local government jurisdictions.

These and other factsheets can be found on the project webpage: saanich.ca/biodiversity

New email: In addition, we now have a dedicated Resilient Saanich email address. This enables streamlining of communications from the public with staff, the Resilient Saanich Technical Committee, and in general for the submission of public feedback. The new email for Resilient Saanich is: biodiversity@saanich.ca. Please see the privacy note below in relation to this email.
