Earth Drums

by Carey Newman

The District of Saanich invites you to attend the official opening of Earth Drums by Carey Newman. The permanent public artwork was commissioned to commemorate Canada's 150th anniversary.

Carey Newman (Hayalthkin'geme) designed the artwork to engage people in reconciliation by asking them to change their relationship with the land. Three large "box drums", intended to be played by hand, allow participants to interact with the artwork, creating music of and for the earth.

The official opening starts at Cedar Hill Arts Centre with a welcoming and presentations, followed by a short walk outside for the unveiling and a unique dedication for Earth Drums by Bradley Dick.
