Everything at Colquitz Creek is connected. The birds chirping the trees buzzing For example, the trees create shade which The water flowing the trees dancing keeps the animals at the creek cool. Nature is a beautiful thing The trees also purify the water and their roots create stability for the river bank.