Palette:

For oils: A large airtight plastic container with a lid, (think of a flattish rubbermaid container) or a large piece of stiff cardboard with several layers of wax paper attached.

For acrylics: An airtight plastic container as described above, or a stay wet palette. These are expensive and not necessary but might be nice to have if you continue on your painting journey!

- For oil paints: Linseed oil, small jar with lid for oil storage
- For acrylic paints: Small spray bottle
- Rag for wiping your brush. Oily rags must be spread to dry at home after use.
